Competition Policy

1. Gymnasts are selected at the Head Coaches discretion and gymnasts compete by invitation only.
2. A verbal commitment stands as an agreement between Artistry and the gymnasts when committing to the competition.
3. Gymnasts cannot withdraw from the competition once the schedule is in place unless a medical certificate signed by a doctor is provided or evidence of any family occurrence which warrants a withdrawal. This is because it is unfair on ALL gymnasts and their families if other gymnasts withdraw once the choreography and competition schedule has been activated.
4. Gymnasts who do withdraw within a four week period of a competition will incur costs for administration, entry fees, possible gymnast replacement costs and or other costs as determined by the Head Coach.
5. Being a part of the competition team requires dedication, focus and commitment. It is expected these qualities are in both the gymnast and their support family/guardians.
6. The host organisations ensure the competition experience is exciting, memorable and rewarding. The competition will be run according to all IFAGG rules and regulations for AGG.
7. An acceptance form requires completion and signing with on 7 days of the invitation to compete or the gymnasts spot may be offered to another gymnast.
8. Each team must have a minimum of four gymnasts in each team in order to compete.
9. Once a commitment has been made and we have the team numbers to proceed, we strongly ask that families follow through with the commitment as respect to all team members and their families.
10. A Zoom meeting will be held in the weeks leading up to the competition in order for gymnasts and family members to ask questions and exchange information. The Zoom will be recorded.
11. Artistry AGG will provide an information document outlining the competition, itinerary and accommodation/flights and costs etc. These details will be updated as the competition moves closer.
12. All gymnasts must pay and be registered with the AAGGF – the AGG governing federation.
13. It is compulsory for competing gymnasts to attend the offered workshops leading up the competition in order to be competition ready.
14. There are obviously costs associated with competing. Artistry AGG is committed to keeping them to a minimum. This however is determined by destinations, and host organisations etc. Artistry AGG does not derive an income from the actual competition, unless we host the competition. When we host a competition, the Club obviously incurs costs that require coverage.
15. Parents/Guardians must pay for airfares and accommodation, administration, competition entry, additional accessories and costume, workshops, the attending coach (split between gymnasts) AAGGF membership, ground transfers and meals whilst in the competition process.
16. Other costs incurred may be: Hair products, makeup, flesh undies, toe shoes, leotards, training uniforms or Brand T-shirts and or sight-seeing.
17. Parents should have a small contingency amount. As with all travel, from time to times there are additional costs involved.
18. Artistry AGG will provide tour , clear communication and instruction for gymnasts and their families, strong competition guidance, communication and logistics, training and preparation of competing gymnasts, music editing of competition tracks, additional makeup and hair support, emotional guidance and support to all, assist with travel arrangements if requested and other support as requested and required.
19. Artistry AGG and its representatives, club members and gymnasts are never to use defamatory remarks or comments either between parties, on social media or at any other time. These matters will be taken seriously and addressed with gymnasts possibly losing their place in the competition teams.
20. All competing gymnasts accept that there will be professional sports photographers at competitions and give full permission for all gymnasts to be photographed whilst competing. All photographers have working with Children checks.
21. All spectators are to be encouraging of all gymnasts and groups throughout a competition.
22. Respectful conduct is required from all participants, gymnasts, parents and spectators at all times.
23. The raising of any issues should be done discreetly between gymnasts/ families and the Head Coach ONLY and in a respectful manner.
